CatSearch A Whole New Way of Searching

Research just got easier! Use CatSearch to discover resources in a whole new way. CatSearch will retrieve authoritative and credible resources from MSU Libraries. With its Google-like search experience, you can enter your research terms in one search box to locate library materials including books, journal articles, trade magazines, e-books, reports, newspapers, videos and more.

Like Google, CatSearch doesn't search everything. CatSearch searches most but not all of MSU Libraries' databases and products. If a search does not yield appropriate results, you may want to search a specific subject database which can be found at <http://lib.montana.edu/resources/>.

Want to learn more about CatSearch?

Attend one of our workshops as we explore this new research tool. Sessions will be held on Wednesday, August 18 and 25 from noon-1pm in the Library classroom. In each session you will learn how to:

- search across the libraries' vast collection or resources
- fine-tune your search to just find peer-reviewed articles, e-books, government documents, or newspapers
- narrow results by subject and date.

Double Take selected for Freshman Convocation

Double Take by Kevin Connolly has been selected as the Montana State University's 2010 Freshmen Convocation book.

Born without legs, Kevin has been the object of curiosity from people throughout the world. Double Take is a memoir that explores perceptions and encourages self-reflection on how we view ourselves and others.

Connolly, a 2008 MSU graduate, will speak at the Convocation on Wednesday, September 8, at 7:30 pm at the Brick Breeden Fieldhouse.

Double Take was also selected for One Book-One Bozeman, a community reading program.

Copies of this book are available at the MSU and Bozeman Public Libraries.

New Library Resources for You !

MSU Libraries has been busy this summer. Always on the quest for new resources to help you with your research, the Libraries made several purchases since May. Here's just a few of them.

Journal Citation Reports - Use JCR to help evaluate the impact and influence of journals within an academic discipline.

Safari Tech Books - Get electronic access to nearly 3,000 technology related books.

More E-books - In addition to the Safari Tech Books, the library has also added another 3,500 e-books to our collection. Access is available through the Library catalog.

E-Journals - The Library has added the back files of over 1000 journal titles. This means electronic access to older volumes of the journals you use most.

Bibliography of Asian Studies - Interested in Asian Studies? Search BAS to locate articles and book chapters published since 1971 on all things Asian.

ASTM Standards Online - Get online access to the current and historical ASTM standards and related engineering publications.
