COVID-19 - EXTRA CREDIT- COVID-19, your experiences and observation, and anthropology

This is a discussion topic for your extra credits for the course (10 points) and a place for you to share your own experiences, observation and thoughts on COVID-19 and various situations, esp. socio-cultural ones - caused by this outbreak? Feel free to post anything. I would also like to discuss what is the role of anthropology and anthropologists in this situation?

More Classwork

I have noticed that most of my classes have increased the amount of assignments due. I don't know if any one else is experiencing this but my abnormal psych class, which was supposed to be an easy A, just assigned an additional 48 assignments and I actually cried twice yesterday because 7 were due yesterday. Another one of my profs has us replying to five other classmates on discussion posts as the requirement and I feel like I had this semester totally figured out and I had a schedule and time management and it has all gone to hell. I'm feeling very overwhelmed because now I have another 48 assignments for a class I barely care about but I can't use a P/F option because it probably won't look great on my transcript for future schools and I can't let it affect my GPA. I feel like some of my professors don't really think about the effect on our lives, that some of us may be caring for family or still working or taking other classes.
