YOU DID WHAT TO THE 3RD FLOOR FOUNTAIN!?

While MSU Library encourages students to be creative and expressive, we don't get very excited with activities such as placing detergent or goldfish in the 3rd floor fountain. We get that people like goldfish and that it would be nice to have goldfish in the library. However, goldfish die when placed in the fountain because the temperature of the water is colder than goldfish can sustain. If you really can't live without goldfish, buy a bag of Pepperidge Farm goldfish which you can now eat in the library (See "Library's New Food policy").

And who doesn't love a good suds party? Unfortunately, detergent in the fountain causes us to have to drain the fountain which in the last instance led to the fountain leaking through the ceiling tiles into the atrium of the library, which led to the fountain needing to be drained again and several visits from the plumber. A lot of collateral damage for a few suds.

In a nutshell, please don't pollute the 3rd floor fountain.

LIBRARY'S NEW FOOD POLICY

In our efforts to support and meet student needs, the Library is pleased to announce that the library coffee shop, Brewed Awakening, will begin selling food on March 4. As a result, the Library suspended its no food policy and adopted a new food and drink policy. To ensure that the Library remains a clean and pleasant study environment, the Leave No Trace: Indoor Library Ethics campaign was launched! Follow these simple guidelines to help us protect the Library...

-  Plan ahead and Prepare
-  Dispose of Waste Properly
-  Be Considerate of Other Visitors
